After listening to several of our members, there are some great travels taking place this summer. I hope they all send us some stories in the upcoming months telling us the highlight of their trip. I'm looking forward to hearing about some of them at our pool party in August at the Muldoon's. Hope to see ya'll there. Stay active, keep cool and enjoy the summer.

Texas Ski Council Update – Charles Chapman info@dfwyoungatheartskiers.org

Welcome to the “dog days of summer”. Don’t you wish you were in Ireland now where it was 64 degrees this morning? Well you can be in September of 2013. Yes, I said September. The trip dates have been moved to September 6-14, 2013 to provide a better price and to accommodate a pre and post trip to London or Scotland.

To date, we have 15 folks who have expressed an interest in the trip. It is going to be a great trip and I hope more of you will consider coming to the “Emerald Isle” with the Texas Ski Council.

There will continue to be updates on the trip, and I will forward these updates to all club members.

Think snow.

WE'VE BEEN PLAYING

I've been playing ..... The Golden Gate Bridge (75) , Me and the Queen of England celebrating our Diamond Jubilee !

It was, indeed 60 years ago in June when we sat foot on American soil in New York harbor . That called for a celebration at the very place , together with our descendants and at the same time hoping to cool off a bit from early Texas heat .

My daughter had rented an apartment for a few days , small but cute on the third floor of a building in Manhattan and with 2 more floors of a steep staircase to the roof top for partying . A little inconvenience - no elevator , but heh ! piece of cake 'cause Grandma is a YAHS !

Her adult grand kids , to live up to Big Apple's lifestyle on summer days , also rented bikes to explore and enjoy Central Park . At 12 o'clock noon in 90+ heat with NY humidity to boot ! Couldn't help but think about our luckier buddies at 7 AM on a ride on Campion in cool Texas . I lasted about 20 min. up-hill and did the rest on foot and on a bench in the shade . Grandson Chase (a native now of NY )rewarded our effort with a cold beer on a spread out blanket on that humongous field , doing what the natives do .(playing frisbie and stripping off clothes .) Adding the countless subway stairs (train is faster than a cab , I was told ) and always in running mode to all other physical challenges resulted at least in shedding some pounds .

We visited Ellis Island and admired the renovated impressive big building that had received the huddled (not illegal ) masses for some centuries . The museum was interesting , but when researching our records we were told they are yet to be updated post WW II . The right place now for more info. would be the Internet , of course. And I tried to remember our first view of the Statue of Liberty from the deck of the “General Blatchford , a battle ship that had brought us here and had docked quite a distance from her ,glancing at the tiny statue Now, the ferry allowed a close up look at the giant Lady in all her Glory .

I also remember the very hot June in '52 ( they had told us the temperature was 80 ) and I proudly wearing a brand new WOOL suit especially custom made for me and the new beginning of our life . On the transit train to Dallas via St. Louis , the A/C was broken and so abruptly was my feeling 'chic' .And when my husband ecstatically grabbed a cold “Root Beer” (unknown to us ) at the stop over station it was the last one he'd ever touched .

As we know now , 1952 was a summer Heat Record in Texas without A/C and how great was our adventure this time !
